The Titanic was the largest ship in the world when it was built in 1912. It was considered to be unsinkable. However, on April 15, 1912, the Titanic struck an iceberg and sank in the North Atlantic Ocean. Over 1,500 people died in the disaster.

The sinking of the Titanic was a tragedy that shocked the world. It led to new regulations for passenger ships and changed the way that people thought about safety at sea.

The Lusitania

The Lusitania was a British passenger ship that was sunk by a German U-boat on May 7, 1915. Over 1,100 people died in the disaster.

The sinking of the Lusitania was a major turning point in World War I. It helped to bring the United States into the war on the side of the Allies.

Other famous shipwrecks

- The Mary Rose (1545)
- The Vasa (1628)
- The Andrea Doria (1956)
- The Costa Concordia (2012)

These are just a few of the world's most famous shipwrecks. Each one has its own unique story to tell. By studying these disasters, we can learn about the dangers of the sea and the importance of safety. We can also learn about the resilience of the human spirit and the power of hope.

Shipwrecks are a reminder of the fragility of life and the power of nature. They are also a reminder of the importance of safety and the value of human life. By studying these disasters, we can learn from the mistakes of the past and prevent future tragedies.
